10 Barrel - Denver is proud to partner with local charities every month!

Our Charity Partner this month is...

CITY YEAR

Students who drop out earn roughly $1 million less than high school grads. Out of school, out of work youths collectively cost Americans about 1.6 trillion in increased social services and lost earnings and taxes over the course of their lifetimes. But there is a solution- using near-peer mentors in Denver's most under-served schools to address specific areas that lead to students dropping out, City Year helps close the gap between what students need to succeed and what schools are designed to provide.
